1. The inflight refueling program has been resumed using KC-135 tankers. Refueling is to be accomplished at [] to provide an acceptable speed envelope for the tanker. Under the circumstances a missed refueling will result if turbulence is present.

2. The test program requested in Reference A. should be reinitiated to assure a full capability. If LAC is unable to accomplish the complete program, the minimum requirements must be a completed engineering study of feasibility. With this in hand the project pilots can complete flight tests.
